Dr. Jack Frasure Hyles

September 25, 1926 - February 6, 2001

During a vacation to Hawaii, Bro. and Mrs. Hyles make a memory.

Dr. Hyles rarely went anywhere without having his picture taken.

While visiting City Baptist, Dr. Hyles entertains the students with his antics.

The Douglass family shares a laugh with Bro. and Mrs. Hyles while attending their 40th anniversary celebration.

Dedication

With the towering skyline of Chicago's lake front beauty, a Texas preacher's heart was warmed and broken by the little children playing on the sidewalk jungles of tall apartment buildings. Understanding the life of growing up in poverty, Bro. Hyles knew it would take a church and a people to reach so vast a city. Turning from wealth, Bro. Hyles loudly proclaimed, "I'll take the bus kids!" And that he did: for forty-one years, Bro. Hyles accepted the commitment of reaching those whose lives were a reflection of poverty and hardship. Questioning church members watched as thousands of people filled the buses and the pews of First Baptist Church. One evident reason was that the heart of a city had been touched by the heart of a country preacher. In 1978, Bro. Hyles felt a greater need for the young people riding our buses. This burden was the need of a Christian school. Hence, City Baptist Schools were started for the express purpose of providing the young people from the Chicagoland area with a quality education, free from drugs and violence and with Christ as its center. Proverbs 29:18 says, "Where there is no vision the people perish." Bro. Hyles' vision for Chicago became the reality for thousands of young people as they were given the opportunity to attend a Christian school. His vision paved the way for many of our graduates to scatter abroad the country in full-time Christian service. May we shout in Bro. Hyles memory, "I'll take Jesus," for that is the certainty to which he lived his life. May we bear the name "Overcomers" with a fervency of seeing many more lives transformed in the image of God.

Although Bro. Hyles is dearly missed, the memory of his dedication and sacrifice will forever walk the halls of City Baptist Schools. It is with great honor that we dedicate the 2001 Overcomer to Dr. Jack Frasure Hyles. We are the recipients of his labor and love.

Bro. Hyles hands out diplomas at graduation.

While attending the parade put on for the bus kids in downtown Chicago, Bro. Hyles stops for a picture.

Dr. Jack Hyles... A Man of Wisdom

The following quotes are by Dr. Jack Hyles.

- "No young person would ever turn out bad if he had just one person who really cared."
- "If there is any statement that I make that brings tears to my eyes faster than any other it is this: God loves me!"
- "Giving is the true barometer of love."
- "Preaching is teaching with a tear in the eye."
- "You are a combination of those who have influenced your life."
- "One should spend his life on things that are eternal."
- "Your name is what you say you are; your reputation is what folks think you are; your character is what God knows you are."
- "There is no plan higher than the will of God for your life."
- "The doing of right has its own reward."
- "God will not do what we can do, but He will do what we cannot after we have done what we can do."
- "The greatest blessing in the whole world is being a blessing."
- "Greatness is in the preparation, not in the performance."
- "Hearts are made one when they are thrust into the fiery furnace of common difficulties."
- "Living by faith is believing that God knows what is best for me."
- "One of the secrets of the Christian life is looking forward to tomorrow. As long as there is a tomorrow with its hopes, there can be a happy today."

Theory Neang serves Bro. Hyles his meal at a banquet for pastors held at City Baptist.

Bro. and Mrs. Hyles pose together for an engagement picture.

Driving into the parking lot, Dr. Hyles is overwhelmed by cheers from the students.

Daniel 12:3 "And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever."

Bro. Hyles walks with his sister, Earlynne Stephens, while giving a tour of his heritage in Texas.

Dr. Hyles playfully teases with Nelson Armijo. (Also pictured are Nelson's parents who attend First Baptist, his sister Emma, a C.B. graduate, and his brother Anthony, a C.B. student.)

Dr. Jack Hyles... A Man of Godly Compassion

What will you remember most about Dr. Hyles?

- My favorite and most cherished memory was on the day of my 8th grade graduation. He spoke to all the graduates and told us that he could relate to us bus kids more than anyone. He said, "I did not make a mistake when I chose the bus kids, it is a privilege to be your pastor."

Eli Bustamante

- I remember his sermon "We all can make a difference." He brought a little boy up to the platform and made him sign his Bible. I will never forget that sermon for it was the day I decided to go to Hyles-Anderson College.

Maria Gerena

- The one thing about Bro. Hyles that stood out the most to me was the way he gave everything he had to Jesus. His whole mind, heart, soul and body were dedicated to the service of God, and that is the way I would like to live my life also.

Robert Lopez

- I will always remember the first night my mother attended night church. Bro. Hyles preached an awesome sermon that convicted my mom. On that night my mother, who had refused salvation before, was led to the Lord.

Jennifer Diaz

- The ways he loved his enemies. I find it so puzzling the way one could hurt him so much, yet when that same person had a need or a burden, Dr. Hyles was the one who helped him. He was so unselfish.

Dennise Pineda

- So many great things can be said about Bro. Hyles. One thing that really made an impression on me was his unconditional love for people. He lived his entire life for others. It did not matter if you were wealthy or homeless: Bro. Hyles loved everybody!

Miss Tiffany Reay

Bro. Hyles always enjoyed making the students laugh.

Bro. Hyles stands beside a monument erected as a tribute to him in his home town of Italy, Texas.

While attending a meeting for the ladies at Hyles-Anderson College, Bro. Hyles pretends to be sleeping.

After each church service, Bro. Hyles shook hands with a line of well wishers.

Bro. Hyles stands before the pulpit at City Baptist High School.

During a special visit to our school with Dr. Jack DeCoster, Bro. Hyles is bombarded by a fanfare of students.

Dr. Jack Hyles and his wife enjoy walking hand- in- hand on a beautiful spring day.

After having his office bombed by several City Baptist students, Dr. Jack Schaap takes time for a picture with the seniors.

Chapel

Preaching many chapel services for the students is our own principal Mr. Douglass.

Bro. Tommy Ashcraft, missionary to Mexico, signs a Bible for Hasuse Duran.

Chapel Memories

Dennise Pineda holds up a "candy gram" made for Dr. Ray Young by the Overcomer Order.

Jackie Lopez waits in line to receive a signature from Bro. Robert Murrillo, missionary to Mexico.

Getting into the spirit of chapel, Mr. Torres waves his hand with excitement.

Bro. Bob Hooker entertains the students with his famous "Donald Duck" sneeze.

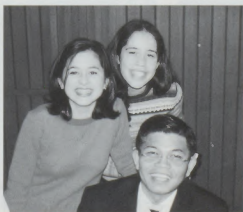

Bro. Ray Young chuckles at the gifts given to him by the students.

As the beginning of chapel draws near, these young ladies get excited.

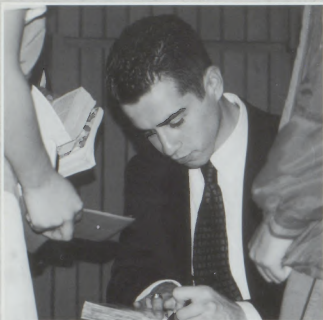

Faithfully standing on the platform each chapel service is Mr. Moseley.

Elizabeth Pineda and Melina Palomo pose for a picture with Bro. Ed Laurena, missionary to the Philippines.

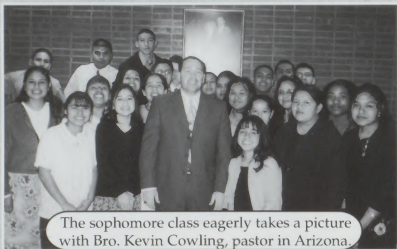

After a loud ovation, Dr. Lapina tries to silence the crowd.

Bro. Freddy Deanda, a division leader in the bus ministry, is flocked with students wanting their Bibles signed.

After preaching in chapel, Bro. John Roloson provided pizza for the students from his bus division.

The sophomore class eagerly takes a picture with Bro. Kevin Cowling, pastor in Arizona.

Bro. Craig Bush was one of many church staff men who preached to the young people.

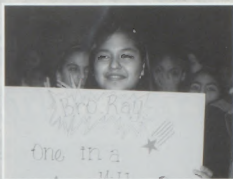

City Baptist surprises Dr. Eddie Lapina by dedicating the yearbook to him.

Dr. John Francis, a frequent speaker in chapel, studies his sermon.

The students were delighted to have Bro. Ron Gensaw, missionary to Nigeria and a former bus captain, as their guest speaker.

Many students, like Marilu Garcia, make signs honoring our special speakers.

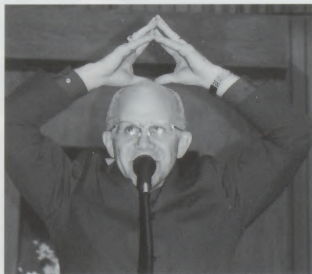

Special music is provided each chapel service by various students.

Bro. Allen Domelle, an evangelist, preached to the students during the preaching conference.

Many college staff men, like Bro. Bob Marshall, give of their time to preach at City Baptist.

Bro. Bob Hooker entertains the students with his impression of a cuckoo clock.

City Baptist Grade School

"Hat Day" provided many students, like Daniel Moreno, with an opportunity to express their creativity.

At the completion of Pastors' School, our students smile widely, knowing they've served the Pastors Bro. Hyles loved dearly.

Miss Hibbard demonstrates how to dip ice cream with both hands.

The Three Amigas, Marbella, Flor, and Ofelia, prepare to serenade the crowd with their music.

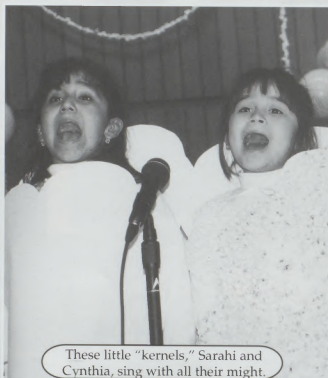

An added delight to the ice cream room: these singers entertain customers.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a family time for City Baptist students. With popcorn being the theme for the day, many Best Years members "popped out" to share this special day with us. The Best Years Club is a group for senior citizens from First Baptist Church.

Mr. Johnson cheerfully pours punch for his table.

These little "kernels," Sarahi and Cynthia, sing with all their might.

"Extra! Extra! Read all about it!" exclaim Christian and George as they portray paper boys.

Flor, Marbella, and Judy are once again unsuccessful at their diets.

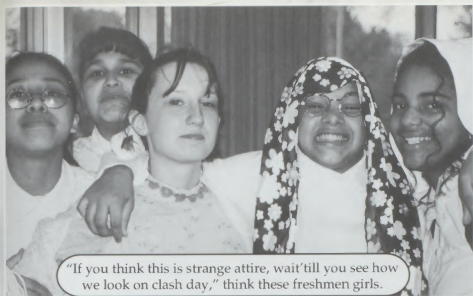

Susana Orduno kindles a special friendship with Mrs. Penley.

Tito Gerena plays the part of a lumberjack.

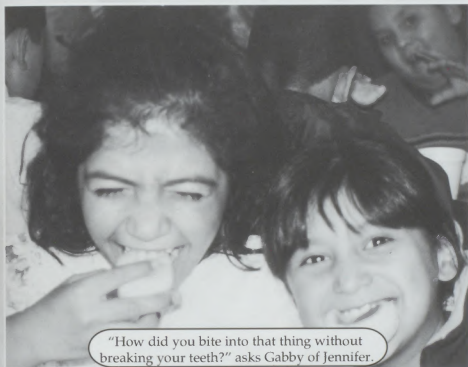

Mr. Douglass helps serve up the Thanksgiving feast.

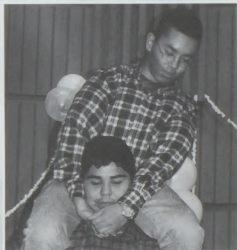

"If you think this is strange attire, wait'till you see how we look on clash day," think these freshmen girls.

"Manuel, how many times do I have to tell you to chew with your mouth closed?" asks Miss Loyd.

"How did you bite into that thing without breaking your teeth?" asks Gabby of Jennifer.

"Now it's my turn," says Eddie to Hector.

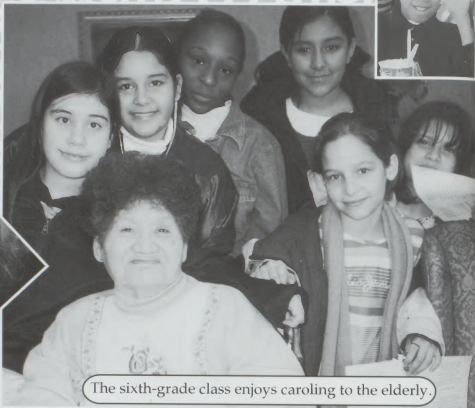

"Carmel corn for the Best Years; pop, pop, pop, pop, pop," sang the Home Economics class to the tune of "Old McDonald Had a Farm."

Jacky Palacios pleads for a date in front of the student body.

CHRISTMAS

This is definately a woman's job!

The sixth-grade class enjoys caroling to the elderly.

Do you see the resemblance?

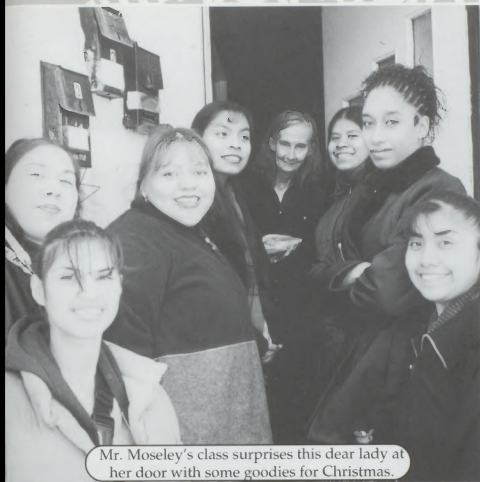

These Senior Santa Helpers spend some precious moments with a smiling senior citizen.

Almabella Batrez takes great care as she builds a gingerbread house.

The sophomore class gets ready to carol to a Best Years couple at their home.

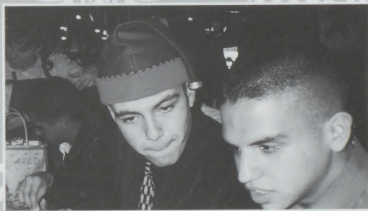

Mr. Moseley's class surprises this dear lady at her door with some goodies for Christmas.

"Is something going to jump out of here?" wonders Mr. Douglass as he opens his gift from the seniors.

The freshmen enjoy a Christmas feast of homemade Spanish food.

"What in the world is grits?" ask Angel and Carlos as they prepare to order at the Cracker Barrel

Sandra laughs as she unwraps her surprise.... a toilet plunger!

Love Luncheon

Spiders up, spiders down, mighty spiders all around. To their surprise, as the Best Years Club entered the building, they were bombarded by an infestation of unwanted guests - SPIDERS! Unbeknownst to them the Best Years members quickly discovered that not all spiders are undesirable. The Best Years Club is a group for senior citizens from First Baptist Church.

One of the featured guests for the day found its home nestled in Miss Hibbard's head.

Robert Lopez cautiously helps Mrs. Sutkowski plot her next move in Tic Tac Toe.

"Little Miss Muffet" frantically searches for the "spider" that frightened her away.

"Icky icky icky, spiders really sticky; shoot it at the dart board and win!" chant these cheerleaders.

These girls find out just how contagious itching can be in their skin.

Neither Mrs. Bartley nor Mrs. Hasse want to be caught holding "the spider" in this game.

Special folks like Mrs. Clyde Wolfe, Sr., make special memories for seniors, Judy and Flor.

Mrs. Hunter teaches Jacky, Dennise, and Sintia the way she learned how to sing the "Itsy Bitsy Spider" when she was a girl.

Nimer smiles as he prepares to win at this unusual style of Tic Tac Toe.

Lydia Nevarez takes extra care as she pins a "spider" on this dear lady's blouse.

"Service with a smile; thats my motto," thinks Ofelia as she waits on Mrs. Schneider.

"Spiders anywhere you please: on the ground and on high trees, under water, sand and stone; spiders creeping in your home," recite Judy and Maria.

Donning her spider apparel, Maria Alcaraz makes paper flowers.

8th Grade Trip

"Watch out everyone!
Here comes Liz!"

Angelica and Yasenía went on a shopping expedition in Nashville.

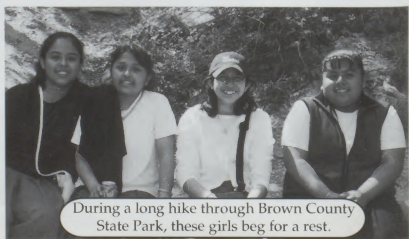

"Off to the races,"
says Marco Fajardo.

Mr. Lewis enjoys some quality time with these boys.

On a hot day, Leo, Luis, Noel, Ruben, and Eduardo contemplate taking a dip.

During a long hike through Brown County
State Park, these girls beg for a rest.

"I think I lost the girls on the last bend," thinks Ronald.

"I feel a slam dunk coming on!"

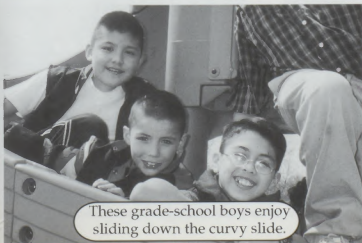

Walk a Thon

Lidia pushes the swinging siamese twins, MariLu and Flor, to greater heights.

Carlos is proud of the minnow he caught.

These grade-school boys enjoy sliding down the curvy slide.

Special friends like these girls make for a special day.

Senior Trip to Colorado!

David Gonzalez finds his dream date!

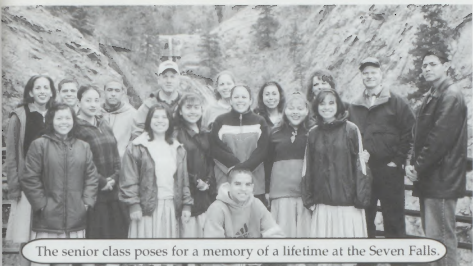

"'Da Boss and 'Da Boys"

"Can you believe we're in the Garden of the Gods?"

The seniors enjoy the beautiful overlook at the top of Pike's Peak.

The senior class poses for a memory of a lifetime at the Seven Falls.

"Don't worry folks! We'll save it from falling!"

The seniors eagerly take a picture in their matching shirts.

Jackie enjoys her food a little too much!

Atop this snow-covered mountain, the seniors reveal their true colors.

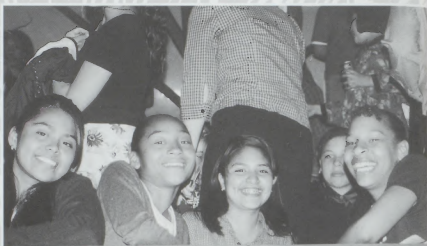

"There'll be no doggy bag for me!" thinks Fred as he devours his ribs.

Homecoming Day 2001

A highlight of the day for Jessica Alvarez was spending time with her "lady bus worker," Miss Darla.

Angelica, Jackie, Alma, and Tonara enjoy having a day off of classes to watch the game together.

A warm hug is given by Miss Hibbard to Dennise Pineda as she receives an award.

Carlos and Giovanni give each other a well-deserved pat on the back after winning a hard-fought game.

Alonso Garcia proudly receives this trophy at the Sports Banquet

Carlos Osoria soars after this ball to keep it in bounds.

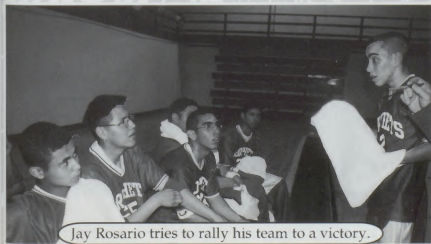

While on a date at the banquet, Allen Zaia displays his best table manners.

The entire homecoming court is accompanied by their escorts.

Jacky Palacios, the Senior High Princess, walks with Fred Quinatoa.

Jay Rosario tries to rally his team to a victory.

Maria and Sarahi are presented with the Spirit Award in cheerleading.

Back: Fred Quinatoa, Alex Mercado, Jose Roa, Henry Galan, Front: Greg Calix, Ervin Rosario, Ricky Vera

The Apostles Back: Carlos Osoria, Alonso Garcia, Giovanni Gonzalez, Jose Nevarez, Mr. Lewis, Front: Nimer Salas, Alfredo Rebelledo, Mark Avila

Giovanni Gonzalez refuses to allow Jay Rosario to penetrate in "the key."

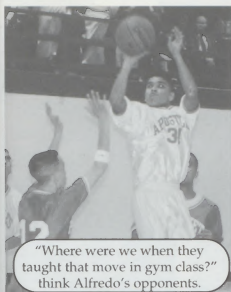

Lydia Nevarez was crowned Homecoming Queen for the day.

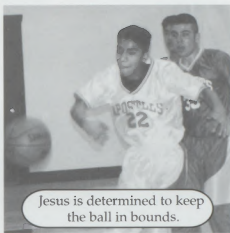

"Do all girls take this long to get ready?" think these men as they wait for their dates.

Winter Rally

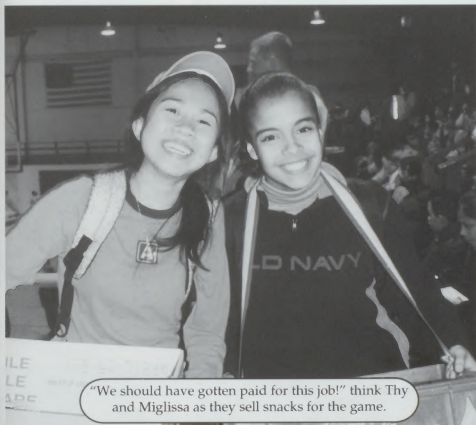

"Where were we when they taught that move in gym class?" think Alfredo's opponents.

Jesus is determined to keep the ball in bounds.

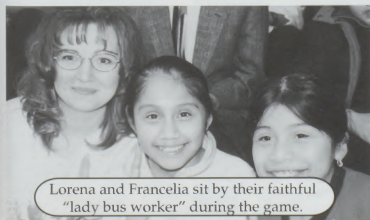

"Watch out Carlos, I'm coming through!" thinks Jay Rosario.

"We should have gotten paid for this job!" think Thy and Miglissa as they sell snacks for the game.

Mr. Lewis and Fred Quinatoa plot their strategy for the second half.

Lorena and Francelia sit by their faithful "lady bus worker" during the game.

A Farewell Celebration

Our exciting school year was wrapped up with an exciting finale. Students were recognized for academic excellence in our Award's Chapel. Each class took a final field trip together. We ended it all on Friday with a spring cleaning and a farewell feast. A warm, sunny day made for a beautiful outdoor picnic featuring tacos and Puerto Rican rice.

"Giddy-up, horsie!"

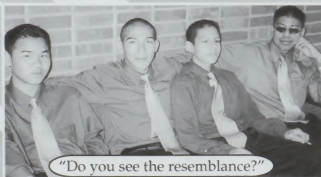

Sandra and Leslie make sure Miss Loyd knows she is loved as they leave for the summer.

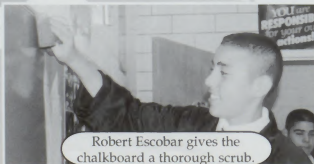

"Step aside," I'm coming through!" says Ulises.

Norma and Lisseth peer out at their friends one last time as they prepare to depart.

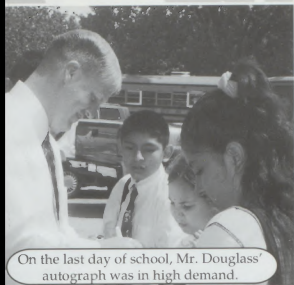

"Do you see the resemblance?"

Robert Escobar gives the chalkboard a thorough scrub.

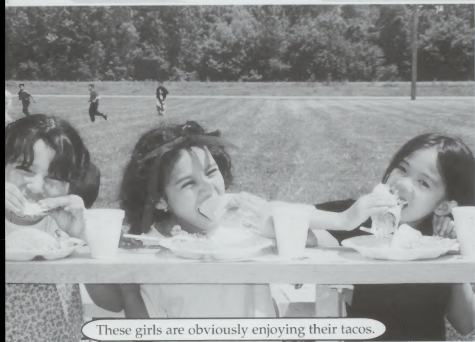

"What's up Doc?" says Carlos Gutierrez as he demonstrates his science project on vitamins.

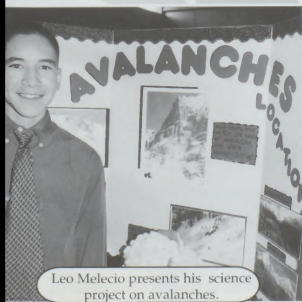

On the last day of school, Mr. Douglass' autograph was in high demand.

Miss Williams sinks a hole-in-one on a miniature golf outing for the sixth-grade class' end of the year party.

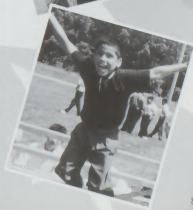

These girls are obviously enjoying their tacos.

Leo Melecio presents his science project on avalanches.

Mrs. Bartley is a "grandmom" away from home for many grade-school children like Cinthia and Mosa.

Every student at City Baptist dreams of the day that he will march down the aisle as seniors to receive their diplomas, shake Dr. Hyles' hand, and flip their tassels. However, each graduate and faculty and staff member will always remember 2001 as the first year we held graduation without our Bro. Hyles. On a sweeter note, it was our first graduation service with our new pastor, Bro. Schaap.

Graduation this year was a splendid combination of tears and laughter; sentiment and joy; memories and present honor. Bro. Schaap began the morning by addressing all of the graduates. He said, "this is a special class because they were the ones chosen by God to lose their preacher. God knew that they were the class that could handle it."

Our guest speaker for the day, Bro. Jeff Fugate, challenged the students to use the suffering brought into their lives to do great works for God. Many of our students wept tears as they made a conscious decision to be the one on whom God could count to serve Him.

This year's graduation held an extra-special moment as Dr. Jack DeCoster came to visit. Many of our graduates were able to attend school this year because of his generosity, therefore he was honored with a special plaque.

Graduates, we are proud of you. To whom much is given, much is required. As Bro. Ray challenged you before the service, "Go make us proud. We expect nothing less!"

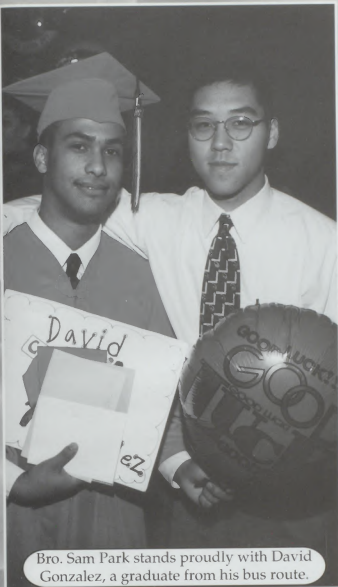

Elizabeth Barraza, Yesenia Hernandez, and Maria Lopez eagerly take a picture with this "lady bus worker," Mrs. Maribel Rimes.

Dr. Jack DeCoster paid a surprise visit to us at graduation.

The senior class gathered together for one last picture.

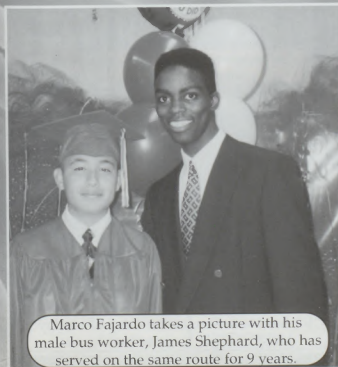

Bro. Sam Park stands proudly with David Gonzalez, a graduate from his bus route.

Warm and friendly greetings come from this eighth-grade graduate, Beatriz Chavez.

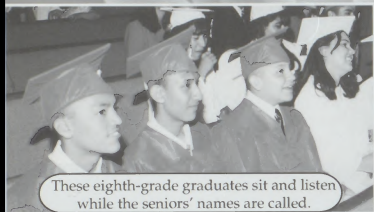

These camera-shy eighth graders pile in for a picture.

Marco Fajardo takes a picture with his male bus worker, James Shephard, who has served on the same route for 9 years.

These senior girls wait patiently for their names to be called.

These eighth-grade graduates sit and listen while the seniors' names are called.

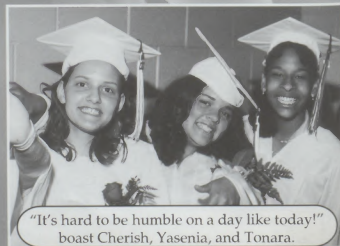

Judy, accompanied by her family, becomes the third Moreno to graduate from City Baptist.

Miss Santiago gives Jacky Palacios, a rider from her bus route, a congratulatory squeeze.

Mrs. Jackson helps Maria Gerena achieve the perfect look on her special day.

"It's hard to be humble on a day like today!" boast Cherish, Yasenia, and Tonara.
